Edward Hopper is widely acknowledged as the most important realist painter of twentieth-century America. But his vision of reality was a selective one, reflecting his own temperament in the empty cityscapes, landscapes, and isolated figures he chose to paint. Edward Hopper (22 Temmuz 1882 – 15 Mayıs 1967), Amerikalı ressam ve grafiker. Genellikle ya?l? boya tablolar? ile popüler olsa da suluboya ve gravür konusunda da en az ya?l? boya resimlerde oldu?u kadar uzmand?. If the old saying is right, and imitation is indeed the sincerest form of flattery, then Edward Hopper just may be the most adulated artist of all time. And Nighthawks, his 1942 painting of a ... Hedda Hopper (born Elda Furry; May 2, 1885 – February 1, 1966) was an American actress and gossip columnist, notorious for feuding with her arch-rival Louella Parsons. She had been a moderately successful actress of stage and screen for years before being offered the chance to write the column Hedda Hopper's Hollywood for the Los Angeles Times in 1938.
