Don't take on a huge project as your first game. You will regret it and cry all the way there. Don't go back and keep redoing stuff over and over. The Exorcist franchise boasts the top-grossing single horror film and the top-grossing series on our list. The first movie alone, which earned $860.76 million at the box office, would be enough to take the top spot. Paranormal Activity is an American supernatural horror film series which basically focus on families that are haunted by a demon. The demon haunting the family on each film starts with stalking the members of the family, causing terrifying incidents, until the members or bystanders are killed one by one. That said, other horror readers more sympathetic to this style might dig The Lake. Points for its nicely self-aware moments ("You tell me, you're the one that reads all those Stephen King novels") and especially the punk party held in a suburban home while the parents are away, man that really took me back., Horror 101 The Way Forward.
