

Download Oral Rehabilitation A Case Based Approach

In a case report, Shulman et al (2009) described the use of dynamic splinting to reduce trismus that occurred in a patient following multiple dental procedures. The purpose of the study was to determine the long-term results of preaxial polydactyly reconstruction through evaluating strength, range of motion, pain, arthritis, and functional outcomes. There is/was a problem with your internet connection. Please note that some features may not function properly. Please refresh your browser if your internet ... The Power of Together. Welcome to Nutricia Learning Center (NLC), a community hub and trusted, collective resource for health care providers managing patients with special nutritional needs.